Chairman: As you went out, you went through various ~~students~~ who banged the car as you went?

Bowden: Yes, two I think.

Partington: You say that you left in the police car. In ref. 18 Pages 4 and 5 it is suggested that you left in a Vauxhall Viva.

Bowden: I don't own a Vauxhall Viva. When I am told this incident occurred I already had left, ~~and all I can suggest I read your preview to this.~~

Chairman: We will accept the evidence that you didn't ⁱⁿ fact drive a Vauxhall Viva at great speed, it is at the moment overwhelming.

Reissland: I am a little worried about one of your remarks about the key.

Bowden: The driver was there but he didn't have the key. They obviously have two to a car and the driver who had driven the car had the keys with him and when one policeman came back I think it was the co-driver.

Chairman: Getting back to the meeting room and Dr. Inch's departure, do you remember people sitting down in the doorway?

Bowden: Yes, I remember particularly a phrase 'sit down'.

Chairman: Do you remember how many people responded to that call?

Bowden: Its difficult to say. About half a dozen at a minimum but I can't say any more.

Chairman: Someone else has also said that demonstrators linked arms in the doorway?

Bowden: I couldn't see them.

Chairman: Thank you very much Dr. Bowden. If there is anything that you have already read or that you hear of subsequently in the evidence that you want to comment on or refute or get us to ask questions about, you should certainly get in touch with us.

Bowden: If I could ask you, a number of statements have been made, I think, if I might make an opinion, as an attempt to discredit my witness, I have also had phone calls and intimidations to discredit, and I would like to reappear if anyone makes any further allegations, to deny them if they are not true.

Chairman: There are only a few points that we want to take up with you. First of all, can I ask you when you got to know of the change of venue of this meeting?

Joscelyne: I got to know about it in fact about ten minutes before the meeting took place, I heard that it was to take place in Wivenhoe House.

Chairman: There was a meeting of several students with Dr. Bowden about 3.45. You weren't at that?

Joscelyne: No.

- Chairman: I just want to ask you about the struggle involving Martin Shaw. We have had various accounts of this particular struggle. One account is ~~that~~ⁱⁿ No. 40~~77~~. Before you read that, you say that you saw someone kick Martin Shaw on the legs?
- Joscelyne: Yes.
- Chairman: Did you see any preceding incident which might have caused this?
- Joscelyne: No. I was sitting at the back of the room and as Dr. Inch tried to leave I moved forward to the front of the room and saw Mr. Archer throw the yellow powder and as soon as I had seen that I sort of turned to the left and I saw Martin Shaw trying to keep off somebody who was trying to kick him rather violently.
- Chairman: Definitely not a sort of accidental happening?
- Joscelyne: Definitely not, the legs were going too and fro ten to the dozen.
- Chairman: But if there had been any other struggle before that you wouldn't have seen it?
- Joscelyne: There were other scuffles going on but these are the only two that I was definitely in a position to say I saw.
- Chairman: This person who was kicking Shaw, was he restrained by anyone else.
- Joscelyne: No, just Shaw. Shaw had his hand out on his shoulders and after he had been kicked a few times the person who was kicking him managed to disappear through the door after Dr. Inch and Shaw was left there standing.
- Chairman: Did you see the struggle between Dr. Bowden and Mr. Thomas. Did you see how that began.
- Joscelyne: Not really. Only as much as they were engaged in a sort of pushing at one another. Whether Mr. Thomas's glasses were in fact on him during the struggle, I am not in a position to say. All I can say is that I saw Dr. Boyden pick up his glasses off the floor and stick them in his pocket.
- Chairman: The glasses didn't appear to be twisted or damaged in any way?
- Joscelyne: I couldn't see the glasses to see if they were twisted, only that he picked them up and put them in his pocket.
- Chairman: Could you describe the man who was kicking Shaw.
- Joscelyne: He wasn't a distinctive person. He had short dark hair about the same height as Shaw. That is all I can say. I couldn't recognise him if I saw him again.
- Chairman: Do you know anyone called Reeve?
- Joscelyne: I have heard of the name. I don't know him personally.
